A message from Deacon Rick

I was on vacation last week in the Adirondacks, when one day I picked out a shirt that had written on it "the prayer of Jabez". Remember the "prayer of Jabez"? It was very popular in Christian circles a few years ago. It's a passage from 1 Chronicles 4:10, whereby an "honorable man" named Jabez, perhaps in the line of the kings of Judah, called on the God of Israel, saying, "Oh that You would bless me indeed and enlarge my border, and that Your Hand might be with me, and that You would keep me from harm that it may not pain me!"

And God granted him what he requested.

Many claim remarkable results when praying that. Discern it for yourself. Praying Scripture is always a good thing. We don't use it materialistically, no; this is not about prosperity ministry. Nor is it magic. It is about protection -- important in our time -- and expanding our ability to serve God. With that comes the means to do so.

I have asked Josephine, our bookkeeper to calculate what it takes to break even on our finances on a weekly basis, using the past 10 months as a guide. This would be without major repairs or capital improvements. The figure that she came up with is $4,545.00 per week. That may seem like a lot of money, but we are a good sized operation here. You can compare it to what we report on a weekly basis. What we cannot provide for weekly comes out of our reserve funds which are being steadily depleted. And so, we should all pray this prayer of Jabez for our St. John Kanty community, that we will have the guidance and direction to reverse the trend: "Oh that You would bless me indeed and enlarge my border, and that Your Hand might be with me, and that You would keep me from harm that it may not pain me!" Expand your boundaries. Don't limit yourself. Pray to God that you fully complete the design He has set for your life.

Peace +,
Deacon Rick

Faith Moment Reflection

The poet Edna St. Vincent Millay wrote: "My candle burns at both ends; it will not last the night." So many of us burn the candle at both ends that our lives lose balance. We work too much. We try to keep the perfect household. In between, there is too little time for family and friends—and for God. The good news is that balance in life is within our grasp. In this week's gospel, after hearing how hard they had been working, Jesus invited his apostles to "come away by yourselves and rest a while." Note that even doing God's work can be exhausting. Achieving balance starts with recognizing God as the center of our lives. Just as we need time for rest and relaxation, we must also make time for prayer and reflection. When we do so, our faith will help restore balance and support us through all of life's challenges.

Today's Faith Moment was provided by Christ the King Seminary. You can listen to Faith Moments on WLOF 101.7 FM, WBEN radio 930 AM, or at www.faithmomentsonline.org.

Sixteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time – July 19, 2015

When the apostles were trying to reflect on their ministry, Jesus asked them to "Come by yourselves to an out-of-the-way place". Listening to God in quiet prayer is very important in vocation discernment. Listen to God's voice in an out-of-the-way place. If you feel the call is genuine, call Father Walter Szczesny ~ 716-847-5535. You can also check out the "Priest of the Month" stories on our website ~ www.buffalovocations.org!

A Family Perspective

In today's gospel "the apostles gathered around and told Jesus all they had done." Listening allows the other person to express, understand and appreciate their experiences. Whether it is the excited chatter of young child or the repetitious stories of an aging grandparent, listening is important. It is not just time well spent, it is sacred time.

Care for Creation. Pope Francis began his encyclical, Praise be to you, my Lord: On Care for our Common Home, with the reminder that "St. Francis of Assisi reminds us that our common home is like a sister with who we share our life and a beautiful mother who opens her arms to embrace us." (1) "St. Francis was a mystic and a pilgrim who lived in simplicity and in wonderful harmony with God, with others, with nature and with himself. He shows us just how inseparable the bond is between concern for nature, justice for the poor, commitment to society, and interior peace." (10) Action: take time during this summer to enjoy nature and learn God's creativity and love from this wondrous gift God has given us. To learn more, go to <http://www.franciscanaction.org>.

Marriage Moment. "Jesus...sent them out two by two." (Mark 6:7) Although this scripture refers to the 12 apostles, as a married couple you two are sent to bring good news to the people around you. Who can you lift up today?

Parenting Perspective. As your children mature and become emerging adults, the way you share your faith must mature also. Share your faith struggles, not just your certainty. Their questions may deepen your faith. That is good.

Triduum to St. Anne

Honor St. Anne, mother of Mary, grandmother of Jesus.
